

EDITORIAL SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Article synopsis

Before submitting your article, please email editorial@deltabusinessmedia.com a brief synopsis summarizing the content and purpose of the article. The synopsis should be up to 300 words and include the title of the article, the author's name and position. We encourage authors to submit articles that have not yet been published or have not been considered for publication elsewhere.

Format and article length

Articles should be submitted as Word documents; preferred length of the articles is around 1,500 - 2,500 words; these word length do not include footnotes. As a guideline, articles of this length can include from 4 to 8 illustrations/photos. Please divide your article into clearly defined sections and, if necessary, subsections. All subheadings in the text must be indicated.

Illustration guidelines

- Photographs, charts, graphs, drawings and diagrams should be labeled so that they correspond with the reference to them within the text (eg Table-1, Figure-2, Diagram-3). Please supply a short description/caption for each illustration.
- Computer-generated charts, diagrams and maps are acceptable, provided they are supplied with the required resolution.
- Resolution of all submitted illustrations should be 300 dpi at actual print size.

The article must include a biography of each author of up to 200 words and a passport-size photograph.

Submission

The files should be labeled for 'Cyber Security Review' and sent by email to: editorial@deltabusinessmedia.com or uploaded to our dropbox - www.transferbigfiles.com/dropbox/DeltaBusinessMedia

PDF layout

Articles will be edited in accordance with the publisher's house style, and the author will be provided with a layout for review before publication.

Note to authors:

Articles submitted by Government, Intergovernmental and not-for-profit organisations are published free of charge. Articles submitted by commercial and for-profit organisations are subject to admin and production fees. Please email us at editorial@deltabusinessmedia.com for more details.
